Observers Expect Democratic Campaign to Be Waged From Two Viewpoints, But With Toleration From Both Wilson CITY AND COUNT and Cox.

Washington, July 30 .- (United News.)—The league of nations will continue to be the principal campaign issue as far as President Wilson is concerned, no matter what course is pursued by Governor Cox. Whatever utterances the president makes will be based on the league

This was the answer given today in administration circles to the statement made yesterday George White, chairman of the emocratic national committee, that the democratic nominee is not bound to the league as an issue and that "progressivism" would be the 'ubject of greatest emphasis.

It is taken for granted that Wilson will not make any public expression of displeasure at the White statement. The president has received personal assurance from Cox ty is putting down a concrete street that he will support the administration recommendations for the league. Wilson will not attempt to dictate to Cox as to the relative position of his favorite issue in the campaign, according to the belief generally expressed here. Two Different Viewpoints with Wilson holding to his personal idea of making the league of nations paramount and with White, considered a spokesman for Coxplacing the league issue in position of minor importance, political observers now expect the democratic campaign to be conducted from two different viewpoints, but with toleration from both the president and the nomines.

GOVERNOR COX INTENDS TO RUN OWN CAMPAIGN

BY ROBERT J. BENDER, United News Staff Correspondent. Dayton, Ohio, July 30.—One thing pertain about the respective campaigns of Governor Cox and Senator larding has been that Cox was going to run his own show, while Harding was going to let republican party leaders stage his for

And, already the difficulties atfending each course are beginning to reveal themselves to the respective candidates. Even as Cox delicate diplomacy in centralizing the direction of his political efforts, so is Harding threatened with "too many cooks" in his decentralization aims.

Democratic leaders are frankly orried over the impression that a gone abroad that the white house is running Cox and the Cox Republican leaders are equally disturbed over some differences that have developed among the leaders of the Harding forces as the senator's friends seek to ake things in their own hands. Will Hays, chairman of the national ttee, some of his friends comreached by other of the Harding campaign leaders. Of the campaign gets under way, all of these difficulties will be ironed out by the respective party

Cox, according to his friends, has an understanding with President Wilson that at the proper time unequivocally acknowledged at the white house. They are not a little disturbed meantime, however, at the effect of the recent Cox-Wilson conference in Wash-ington, which has been construed ollow the president's mandate on issues and campaign procedure.

Hope for Word From Wilson. It is hoped by Cox supporters hat the president will personally act to nullify this impression; but, tain that Cox will show clearly he is running his own campaign.

Governor Tells the Home Folks at Dayton Celebration He Will Take Good Care of Mansion.

And Governor Replied, "Hello, Buck," "Hello, Pete," and "How Are You; Charley?" - Governor and Wife Enjoyed the Day.

BY ROBERT J. BENDER, United News Staff Correspondent. Dayton, Ohio, July 30 .- When it comes to paying homage to a favor-ite son, time, tide—and temperature stay no man. Hence, despite the Allow Atlanta Workers fact that it was nearly a hundred in Do Excavation Work on the shade here Friday and there was comparatively no shade—thousands of people from this city and the whole Miami valley flocked forth to honor "Jimmy Cox."

A hot time was had by all-probably the hottest by the governor himself. He left home with a large white handkerchief. It proved later to be a conspicuous feature of the celebration because, as he stood in the reviewing stand and watched 2,000 to 12,000 marchers pass, all eyes were on him most of the time and he had the handkerchief functioning over his features all of the time. It served as a fan, an eyeshade, a means of saluting passing delegations and floats and, when not otherwise engaged, was devoted to removing an ever-increasing per-spiration from the uncovered head and amiling countenance of the democratic nominee.

"Hello. Jimmie," was the salutation shouted at the governor by hundreds of the paraders. "Three cheers for Jimmie," and "hi, Jimmie: I'll see you in the White house," were other greetings. "Hello, Buck! Hellio, Petel"

The governor, waving a soggy handkerchief and applauding each group, responded in kind.
"Hello, Buck," and "Hello there Pete," and "Hello, Ike" and "How are you, Charley," were among the back to the marchers as he pointed out many old time friends.

"I have seen men who have fol-lowed my standard for 12 years who gave me confidence in 1908," said the govern r in his brief address, "I am prouder to have held it than to have inspired it at the outset. It shall be my aim at all times to justify the confidence you have evidenced this afternoon."

London, July 30 .- (By the Associated Press.)-An official report oncerning the reception Thursday by Premier Lloyd-George of a deputation of unionist peers and members of the house of commons' discussion of the subject of Ireland, shows that the chief spokesmen of the deputation were the Duke of Northumberland and Sir Edward Carson, the unionist leader, both of whom emphasized that the Sinn Fein was part of a great worldwide conspiracy in which bolshe-vism and German revenge were playing an active part, aiming at the destruction of Great Britain.

The Duke of Northumberland alluded to an alliance alleged to have been formed at the beginning of 1919 between the Sinn Fein and bolsheviki through Dr. Patrick Mc Cartan, the Sinn Fein "ambassador to the United States, and de that the program of the Sina Fein was virtually identical with the program propounded by the third Carson Refers to America.

A Place For Everything Everything In Its Place

Piggly Wiggly shoppers appreciate the fact that they can always find just the articles they are looking for in the same location. For example: Canned Fruits, the first group to the left as you enter; next the Canned Vegetables and Syrups. On the right as you enter are the Coffees and Teas. So it is with all the 1,000 articles which comprise the Piggly Wiggly display. We believe that nearly every man, woman and child in Atlanta, if blindfolded, could find the sugar place.

This is real order, and you can get clean groceries

All goods are in cartons, sealed packages or in selfclosing refrigerators.

The price on each article is marked in plain figures on a swinging price tag.

Viscount French's Close Friend Shot in Dublin While Attending Meeting of Rail Directors.

Dublin, July 30.—Frank Brooke, wealthy country gentleman, close friend of Viscount French, the ford lieutenant and member of a committee on Irish reconstruction appointed last year by the viceroy, was assassinated today.

Mr. Brooke was killed in the di-rectors' room of the Dublin and Southeastern railway in Westland row, where he had gone to attend a meeting of the rallroad's board of directors. Three assassins entered the room and fired at Brooke while he was talking with Mr. Cotton, who is another director of the road and is also manager of the London and Northwestern railway. One of and he died immediately. Brooke carried a revolver but had no time to use it. Other men had been left Sheeting in Reprinal.

Another suggestion is that the shooting was in reprisal for the dismissal of rallwaymen for refusing to operate trains carrying police and soldiers. However, the Dublin and Southeastern railway, with which Mr. Brooke was connected has not been seriously affected by this movement and that there have been fewer dismissals of men from it than from any other line in Ireland.

Mr. Brooke in political quarters had been conspleuous only during the last twelve months as the condidental friend and adviser of Viscount French. The shooting it is thought here, may hasten the imposition of martial law, which some officials favor.

Mr. Brooke was chairman of the Dublin and Southeastern railway and connections with other business and corporate interests in Ireland. Washington, July 30.—By an overwhelming referendum vote, the membership of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States has adopted a platform on industrial relations which, among o the r things, declares for the right of "open-shop" operation in industry and for making labor organizations the same as organizations of employers, legally responsible "to others for their conduct and that of their agents."

Answering two allied propositions submitted at the same time, the members took a position that strikes in public utility operation should be forbidden by law, and that tribunals should be set up with power to fix wages and working conditions for employees of utilities. The results of both votes were made public today by the chamber.

The industrial relations platform, which was submitted to the referendum of the constituent bodies of the chamber in twelve sections, upon each of which a separate vote was cast, was drawn up after the close of President Wilson's first industrial conference last fail.

Leading provisions of this platform include declarations that limitation of commodity output by either employee or employer, when done to create an artificial searcity,

Leading provisions of this platform include declarations that limitation of commodity output by either employee or employer, when done to create an artificial searcity, constitutes an injury to society; that "adequate means" should be provided for adjustment of industrial relations and disputes; that employer and employee have a mutual interest in the "successful conduct and full development or their particular industrial establishment," recognition of which and cooperation upon which "constitutes the true basis of sound industrial relations;" that municipal, state or national government employees have the right to be heard as to their occupation and its requirements, but no right to enter "combination to prevent or impair the operation of government," and that "all men possess the equal right to associate voluntarily for the accomplishment of lawful purposes by lawful means."

Most of the separate platform propositions were accepted by votes of nearly 1,700 in favor to two or three against. The highest negative vote was cast against a section which said that after collective bargaining had been established, Oceanic Segregation of Sex es Measure Also Read in Senate.

Wednesday of next week was set as the day on which the Winkinson bathing bill will come up for action in the senate upon the motion of the 49th, when his measure was taken up Friday morning.

The bill, which provides that men and women shall not bathe together in resorts of the state, came up for passage Friday just before the senate was ready to adjoint, and the postponement was carried. Before this action was taken, however, Senator George C. Glenn of the 43d introduced and had read his facetious substitute which provides that men shall bathe in the Atlantic and women in the Pacific ocean.

Requiring all common, graded and normal schools supported by the state to institute a period of physical training for thirty minutes a day was the provision of a bill by Senator Kea of the 16th, which was unanimously passed. The measure declares that the state, board of education shall prescribe a course of physical training to be followed in all common, graded and normal schools supported by the state and that a manual of physical training shall be prepared and distributed by the board to the various schools to be used in this work.

Senator Kea, speaking for his bill, stated that both the state board of health and the board of education recommended the passage of the measure. He declared that it was similar to the law which is now in effect in Kentucky and has proven to be a great success in that state.

· Values to $60

Men are hard to convince through cold type —they have to be shown, so when we announced a sale of men's and young men's brand-new allwool suits that are up to the usual Carlton standard of style, fit, material and tailoring, AT HALF PRICE OR PRACTICALLY HALF, no doubt there were many unbelievers.

In the face of the present cost of clothing and the EXPECTED NEW FALL ADVANCES, it didn't seem possible to sell an all-wool suit, superbly tailored and smartly styled for so little.

But men came to this sale, and proved their judgment of the values by buying. They are still coming-and buying. Today we expect them to come in droves, and we know they will buy when they see the really honest-to-goodness suits we are offering.

All sizes and types of men can be fitted.

FOR DR. BAHNSEN

Men Interested in Live Stock Business Claim That He Had Always Given Them Efficient Service.

The first of the witnesses for the my afternoon in the probe of the ofof the state veterinarian, Dr.

torney for the prosecution, Wiln was at rest, and Judge Joe ottle, attorney for the defense, mmoned Judge H. W. Hopkins, of nasville. Following Judge red in the live stock business in Atlanta stock yards were called.

Hopkins Testifies. When asked by Judge Pottle if he knew of any act on the part of Dr. Bahnsen or his assistants which had retarded the progress of the use of serum in Georgia, Judge Hopkins replied that he knew of none. Judge Hopkins was shown to be the father of the laws for serum treatment for hogs and cattle in the state and hogs and cattle in the state and stated that he had always been given spiendid service at the hands of Dr. Bahnsen.

Mr. Howard in questioning Judge Hopkins charged that the failure of the state serum plant of the State College of Agriculture, from which the state was supposed to get its serum, was due to hostility and lack of co-operation on the part of Dr. Bahnsen. He further charged that Bahnsen had refused to give the plant any estimate whatsoever of the amount of serum that would be needed by him for the future.

F. M. Butner, F. S. Hall, T. R. Coggins, D. E. Blackwell and W. H. Shippey, all of Atlanta and engaged in the live stock business in the stock yards of this city, were put on the stand by the defense in turn. The testimony of these men brought out the fact that Dr. Bahnsen had always rendered splendid service in the protection of the live stock handled by the Atlanta stock yards.

Clash of Attorneys.

The testimony of Dr. W. M. Howard, of Valdosta, secretary and treasurer of the State Veterinary association, brought forth some little controversy between the attorneys for both sides. Dr. Howard was put on the stand by the prosecution and when his testimony began to turn toward the fact that Dr. Bahnsen had refused to yield certain funds and books of the State Veterinary association, of which he had been treasurer, until succeeded by Dr. Howard, objection was made by Judge Pottle on the grounds that this was a private affair of Dr. Bahnsen and did not affect his public office.

The attorney for the prosecution, Mr. Howard, declared that the evidence being submitted should be heard as it proved that Dr. Bahnsen was guilty of moral terpitude and that a man guilty of this offense should not hold public office. Chairman Barrett ruled the evidence has long as it pertained to the as long as it pertained to the association of Dr. Bahnsen in mishandling any funds.

News.)-Rivalry between officials

Production of coal, in which there is now reported a shortage, is actually greater so far this year than last. Despite this, coal operators say that the reserve is very low. Until the latest miners' strike and since the switchmen's strike, production, according to geological survey figures, has reached about 10.000,000 tons a week.

At the American Wholesale Coal association the claim is that there is no real shortage of coal, and that the operators are crying shortage in order to boost prices.

Price questions are in the hands of the department of justice, which has told district attorneys to watch for coal profiteering. A meeting is to be held Monday in New York attended by heads of several government departments, to further consider the price and supply situation.

Chicago, July 30.—The coal operators of Illinois today telegraphed John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, refusing his request for a joint meeting of the operators and miners scale committees in an effort to settle the present strike of day men in the Illinois mines. The operators said they could enter into no negotiations unless the Washington authorities who were responsible for the existing contract authorised the meeting. They also said they would not meet the miners' officials so long as the miners remain on strike. The Indiana operators took similar action yesterday and the mine owners of Ohio and Pennsylvania are understood here to concur in the decision.

WARRANTS ISSUED FOR COAL OPERATORS.

Knoxville, Tenn., July 30.—Warrants for twenty coal operators and dealers, charging profiteering in the sales of coal, were placed in the hands of United States Marshal J. Parks Worley today with instructions to serve upon the defendants. United States District Attorney W. T. Kennerly and the marshal's office declined to make public the names of the defendants until after the warrants are served. It is expected that some of these papers will be executed late this afternoon and others tomorrow. Some of the defendants are out of the city, it is stated. General Kennerly has personally been making investigations of the books of various coal corporations, ascertaining information as to their costs and profits. It is understoed that the proceedings instituted by him under instructions from the department of justice at Washington are based upon findings made in these inquiries. It is said that profits of from $3 to $5 per ton on coal, which are considered excessive, are alleged in warrants, which are, drawn under the Lever act. A meeting of coal operators will be held here this afternoon at which time the prospective prosecutions may be discussed. LITTLE PRODUCTION

As things stand today, Cox unquestionably will center a big portion of his personal campalgaing in western states and Ghio. He will start out just as soon as his campaign managers can arrange an itinerary fallowing his speech of acceptance. Every day's mail is filled with scores of invitations, but up to the present time he says he has accepted absolutely none. He unquestionably will speak in Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Portland and Seattle at an early date, however, if the plans of his friends ape approved. St. Paul, Minneapolis, Milwaukee and points in the Dakotas will hear from him also before the campaign is long under way, it is said.

COX COUNTING ON BEING WHITE HOUSE TENANT

How's the boy!" "Go to 'em!" and Cox called back to scores of them, "Hello, Bill!" "Glad to see you, George!" and even "HI, Tom!" "Get Us Back Our Beer."

"Get Us Back Our Beer."

From the top of a big float where the sun had sent the temperature above the 100 degree mark a loud voice shouted. "Get us back our beer. Jimmy!"

While the celebration was a strictly honorary, non-partisan affair to all intents and purposes. the whole city quit work at noon and shortly thereafter began marching in feview before him. But, through smiles of marching men and women and a score of floats, that stepped or rolled majestically down the main thoroughfare of the city, attention was fixed by the great throng along the way on the governor and his wife. They wanted to know how these two acted in the role of possible white house residents, for it was the first time many had had an opportunity of seeing them close up since the democratic party honored them both.

WATSON WALLOWS IN FILTH OF LIES"

stated Mr. Sirmon. "When I spoke at Union City I knew that there would be a backfire, but I also knew that there would be thousands of loyal men in the state of Georgia who would flock to my side. It is purely and simply a question of loyalty with me. It makes my blood boil to think that two years ago while we were helping to push back the German lines such men as Tom Watson and Tom Hardwick were fighting against our country behind our back. If these two men could have been on the western front and seen the look in the eyes of the boys of Georgia who died in the defense of their flag, I believe that they would not have made their fight against the country unless their minds were arped.

Candidates Flayed.

Candidates Flayed. "I wonder what the thoughts of these two men were when the news was flashed out recently that twenty-five flag-draped coffins of southern boys had been received in Atlants. I know what our thoughts were when we laid them to rest beneath the folds of Old Glory in the land of Lafayette and faced around to meet more of the kaiser's men. Personally, I do not feel that a single one of the men who served side by side with these boys has discharged his full duty until he has made every possible fight within his power to defeat the purposes of those who helped the cause of those who killed our comrades-in-arms."

Answering the charge of Tom

Answering the charge of Tom Watson that the American Legion is made up of a majority of exofficers, the committee published a statement calling attention to the fact that this is physically impossible due to the great difference in the number of enlisted men and officers in the army. They also stated that it is not the intention of the committee to espouse the cause of any candidate for public office. Following is the statement:

"The committee of former service

"The committee of former service men appointed by the executive committee of the Atlanta Post No. 1 desires clearly to define the purposes for which this committee was selected. The men who served in the army, navy and marine corps during the world war organized the American Legion. The first caucus was held in Paris, where an equal number of enlisted men and officers of the American army started the movement that has created a membership composed of more than 1,800,000 ex-enlisted men, and, granting that every man who became an officer in the American army during the war is now a legion member, which, of course, is not the case, there could not possibly be more than 30,000 officers, or approximately one-seventh of the legion membership.

"One of the avowed purposes of membership.

"One of the avowed purposes of these legion men is to uphold and promote 100 per cent Americanism. To accomplish that purposes we deem it essential that we make sure men elected to public offices shall be proven, loyal American citizens.

Watson and Hardwick Disloyal.

"Thomas E. Watson, candidate for the United States senate from Georgia, and Thomas W. Hardwick, candidate for governor of Georgia, and others proved themselves to be disloyal to America and her ideals during the war with Germany, and in keeping with the avowed purpose of the legion, we accept it as our duty to denounce these men to the people of Georgia and make public the records of Tom Watson and Tom Hardwick, which prove their disloyalty.

"Be it definitely understood by all "One of the avowed purposes of the matter of smiles for the paraders.

"How young they both are!" was an exclamation frequently heard from the crowd as new arrivals edged into the jam near the stand and got their first glimpse of the governor and his wife.

Old-Fashiened Joliffication.

Friday's event differs from "acceptance day," August 7, in that the latter will be strictly a party affair. Few of the democratic leaders were on hand to participate with Cox in the celebration Friday. The stand was occupied merely by local celebrities. Lengthy political speeches were taboo. It was just an old-fashioned jollification, with fireworks, pink lemonade and everything—sort of a cross between a circus day and the parade opening an annual Elks' street fair in any medium sized American city.

From a distance came the regular beautiful to the cause of any candidate now in the race

Another notable feature of the governor's message is his tribute to the work of the late William H. Felton, who, as a member of the general assembly of 1888-9, was the father of the lease which became effective in 1890, and which \expired only a few months ago.

No state ever made a better contract than that negotiated as the result of the Felton lease act, but it may be said of the last lease that it was equally as advantageous as the former one, and it paid the state very much more.

Three years before the last lease expired The Constitution urged the It is presumed that in a comparanew lease legislation. It was urged by those opposing

IT ALL COMES RIGHT. "In the long-rain spring season," writes a Georgia farmer, "when field work was at a standstill, and we watched the weather from home-windows, and the crop situation looked hopeless, it was pretty hard to keep up a cheerful spirit, yet we knew we'd come through all right-just as we always do. For it never fails to turn out that way!"

And with harvest time near, and the certainty of abundant crops of all kinds, the once forlorn and weather-beaten fields have made good for all.

In this connection The Kansas City Times says Mother Nature knows a trick or two, and always steps in at the opportune time, and urns our gloom into rejoicing:

"Just when the financial sharps ing the patient's pulse every five minutes, along came old Mother Nature with the crops.

The Journal's Unnamed "Democrat" Wants a "United Front" for Smith

And Some of the Reasons Why the People of Georgia Are Very Much Inclined Not to Feel That Way About It.

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMON

Shades of Rip Van Winklel Wonder if that unnamed "der crat" whom The Atlanta Journal "quotes" as wanting a "united democratic front" by leaving Hoke Smith alone to run it out for the senate with Tom Watson thinks: that the people of Georgia have been so forgetful of current political hishas taken place and is taking place in Georgia politics-

It's almost a reflection upon their thinking capacities to assume that the people of Georgia are quite so easily fooled in so short a time, ed since Hoke Smith and Tom Watson were not only lined up together to defeat organized democracy in Georgia, but to stab the administration of the national party, and to nominate a candidate at San dinal principle for which the demoernment, in peace and war, stood. And they'd be together yet if it hadn't been too heavy a load for Hardwick and Smith both to hang on to Watson's coat tail, Smith tried to hang on, the Lord knows!

Wants Smith to Lead That "Solid Front."

Here is the remarkable proposal of that unnamed "prominent demo crat." who seems to be interested primarily in the election of Hardwick for governor and Smith for senator in the name of a "united front"-or perhaps a "united front and back" might have expressed

Says The Journal—

"Dividing interest with the probability of a joint debate in the senatorial contest Friday was the report in The Atlanta Constitution that either Walker or Holder would withdraw, in order that the opposition to Senator Hardwick in his race for governor might be combined on one man to insure Mr. Hardwick's defeat. This report brought the following interesting comment from a well-known democrat, who is anxious to see the democrats present a united front all along the line:

"I notice in the morning's paper that the plan is to take down either Walker or Holder, so that one man may run against Hardwick for governor.

"I notice also the suggestion that some one else be put in the race against Watson, besides Senator Hoke Smith.

"These suggestions are hard to understand.

"If it is desirable to have only one man run against Hardwick, so that he may be defeated, why is it not equally desirable that the race be left to Senator Hoke Smith against Mr. Watson?

"Everybody knows that putting another man into the race will increases the chances for Watson, and that Senator Smith, running against him alone, will certainly defeat him.

"Is there a desire to defeat Hardwick and elect Watson?"

Thus the people in effect are tolicibat Hoke Smith, the same Hoke it better— Says The Journal—

Thus the people in effect are told Smith who made the race in Georgia just three months ago against the administration against the peace and war policies of his government, and who joined with Watson to everthrow democratic organization, should now be left alone to uphold the principles of the democratic faith and carry the standard of party loyalty against Thomas E. Watson, his ally of two months ago, and whose delegates in conjunction with the Smith delegates on May 18 defeated a resolution indorsing an administration of a government that had waged and won the greatest war in the history of nations.

the administration of Woodrow Wilson, his abetting influence in defeating a ratification of the treaty

It is unnecessary to recall the recent campaign of Senator Smith who entered into the presidential who entered into the presidential race in Georgia for the one and only purpose of embarrassing the administration of his party, and who spoke from Tybee to Rabun in opposition to the administration, and to the league of nations, though attempting to appear as a middle-pf-the roader—whatever that means—always appearing with a word of praise on his lips and a brick bat in his hand for his president.

It is unnecessary even to recall the challenge that he threw into the faces of the voters of Georgia in

If a baby gets insufficient exercise less oxyger than his system requires is abs ed, and if the feeding is kept at the standard for a normal baby, the poor little tike will, be unable to completely oxidize his food and waste matters; the inevitable re-sult, then, is the praduction of .edd substances (incompletely oxidized substances) which draw upon the alkaline reserves of the blood and tissues, thus producing a state of acidosis.

The incompletely oxidised substances (of an acid character), by drawing on the alkaline reserves of the blood and tissues, take up mineral material and combine with it, thus withholding it from the bones, if you can follow the explanation so far. The bones therefore remain soft; and in fact all the tissues are robbed of more or less of their mineral essentials. That is rickets. It should not be assumed from this, that a similar state of acidosis could cause the extraction of mineral matter from bones or tissues already formed, as in an adult.

Provisions of the Georgia Primary Law; How a Voting Minority Can Nominate

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMON

sions of the Neill primary law with regard to the senatorial and gurnatorial contests in Georgia.
This misunderstanding has been occasioned, no doubt, by confusion resulting from the much discussed rules governing the April 20 presidential primary. In the latter case the Georgia primary law per se did not apply. a presidential primary not being stipulated in the statutes.

In a general state primary, how-ever, for United States senator, governor and state house officers, the Georgia law provides as follows-First, that for United States senator or governor, the candidate re-ceiving the highest number of votes in a county (a plurality) shall re-ceive the unit of that county— Second, that the candidate for senator or governor receiving a major ity of such county unit votes shall no candidate for senator or gov-ernor shall have received in the primary a majority of the county unit votes, the two candidates receiving the highest number of county units shall enter into a second primary.

For all offices except senator and governor the candidates receiving the largest number of county unit votes, or a plurality, shall be the nominee. Therefore, there can be no "convention fight," as has been suggested by some of the state papers, it matters not what the outcome of governor in the first primary may be. That possibility has even been suggested by the political writer of The Atlanta Georgian, but of course, he wrote without giving the exact provisions of the law careful thought.

The Neill law was passed following the famous Macon convention of 1914 in order to prevent further the reason that the recent presition wrangle was because the combined minorities overrode the rules of the state committee, which were based upon the law, but not a part of the written law, as is the case with primaries for United States senator and governor. Therefore, to be perfectly plain, it takes only a plurality vote for any candidate for senator or gov-

Chicks resembled peculiarly the time outfit that led the pennant a sarlier in the season, and it beyond the realm of possibility they'll shows out a repeat dose afternoon.

Tuero for Visitors.

Tuero, of foreign extraction, we're told late of the St. Louis Cardinals, was on the mound for the Memphians, and the Cuban, while he was touched for seven bingles; in addition to issuing a quartet of free passes, was literally "on top of the world" after his mates had shoved over six runs in the third inning. It might have been that Tuero believed his cue would be to "take it easy," and he did from that point on to the end.

He possesses one of the old fashioned "roundhouse" outs that fades away successfully from the unwary batter. The Crackers fost a bit of their batting ambition after the Chicks went wild in the third, and it was not until the eighth inning that any concentrated fire was directed at Mr. Tuero.

Crackers Fielded Well.

The Atlantans were outbatted, but the fielding honors were carried off in a walk by the locals. In this connection, Harry Damrau and sammy Mayer led the field, Harry being a party to a play in the seventh inning that will rank as one of the prettiest ever pulled at Ponce de Leon. The "Parson" wasn't showing much stuff at the time and Blades beat out a wicked one through second, Damrau raced back of accond, scooped up the ball with his bare hand, tossed to Martin as he fell to the ground, a quick whip to Kauffman catching Blades, who had overun first by a few inches.

Not satisfied with the thrills he supiled the fans by that play. Harr's pulled another in the same frame that is entitled to rank with the first. Collenberger singled cleanly to left and started for second when Tuero started a drive over Damraus head. Closing his eyes and trusting to goodness, Harry jumped for the ball. The pellet touched his gloved hand and stuck, Collenberger being doubled off first fit was the old veteran's inning, all right, and he kept up his good work by sending out a pinch hit—his second of the day—in the eighth frame that drove in the Cracker's third run.

The ball took a bad bound, and the Chick catcher'made good his opportunity to reach third, beating the throw by several feet "Polly" McLarry led in the stickwork for the visitors, getting three hits in five trips to the platter. Other batters getting more than one safe clout were: Harry Damrau, two in four trials; Dixle Carroll, with the same average; Meyers, two out of five, and Tuero two in three attempts.

The shoot will start premptly at p.m.
The intention of the club at first, was not to permit the use of the grounds until the new club house had been built and all the traps had been set, but on account of the continual breaking down of the old traps it has been necessary to leave the old grounds, and from now cn the weekly shoot will be held at the new grounds.

Two new traps were installed this week and everything necessary for the care and comfort of the members and visitors to the new grounds today has been taken care of.

The new club is located on Bolton road near Simms station, about five and one-half miles from Atlanta on a good concrete road. A large sign marked "Atlanta Gun Club" can be easily seen from the highway derecting the members and visitors to the club grounds. Those who desire to reach the grounds on the siteet car, will kindly take a carmarked "The River" which can be boarded at Marietta and Forzyth streets. A large and enthusiastic crowd is expected and the public is cordisally invited to come out and take part in today's program.

EXPECTED SUNDAY

Smith that he is willing to meet Mr. Watson or anybody else on the stump was received with the keenest interest in all-circles. A series of joint debates between the senator and the Thomson man would furnish such a political diversion as has not been seen in Georgia for many a year. That it would develop intense heat and a mutual exposure of records that would indeed be enlightening to the voters goes without saying.

There is little doubt that an agreement by the two men to divide time with each other would draw record - breaking crowds to any stump in the state. Regardless of the effect it might have upon the candidacy of either, it would unquestionably furnish the electors with much information of value to them in making up their minds.

value to them in making up their minds.

"Bunk" Cooper in Race.

A third entry in the senatorial race Friday was John R. Cooper, of Macon, affectionately known as "Bunk" by his friends. An item published in The Constitution about a week ago indicated that Mr. Cooper would probably be in the race. Now he has thrown his hat into the ring in earnest. He declares that he is running on a liberty platform for a repeal of the eighteenth amendment to the constitution and for laying down the bars to "good old wine and beer." He is also opposed to the league of nations.

There were no development in the gubernatorial campaign Friday. Former Attorney General Walker spoke at Millen and will speak today at Statesbore. Speaker Holder left after the adjournment of the house to of to Byron, where he would address the voters Saturday in the interest of his candidacy. He pointed to the fact that he was making this speech in answer to the report that a movement was on foot to clear up the gubernatorial situation so as to present a single opponent to former Senator Hardwick.

FLAMING, ITCHING SKIN DISEASES

Diseases of the skin come from beneath the surface, hence they can be reached only by remedies that penetrate down to their very source. If you are afflicted with eczema, tetter, erysipelas, ringworms, pimsimilar disorders, you need not expect any real relief from local applications, and the sooner you discard their use, the sooner you will be on the road to recovery, provided you will rely upon the use of

S. S. Very often the itching and irritaposed to try almost anything for relief, and that is why you rely upon ocal treatment of salves, ointments; washes and such remedies.

But these remedies cannot possib-ly have any real curative effect upon the trouble, because your disease comes from far below the surface. S. S. S. is one of the most satisfactory remedles for diseases of the skin because it goes direct to the seat of the trouble, and by cleansing the blood of all impurities and disease germs, it keeps the skin free from infection, and restores it to its

Women--As Wives The Dog Fancier

BY FRANCES M'DONALD

She just loves dogs. The little darlings She understands every word they say. In the white marble apartment house where she and her husband live, dogs are welcomebeling a badge of exclusiveness as it were. Children only are barred. So she and the dogs and the husband manage comfortably enough. Husband leaves for the office at 9 and doesn't return for lunch which leaves the day free. It's such a relief. Men are such a nuisance about a house—especially an apartment. And they are so easily irritated. And men for some unafficed to appreciate the finer sort of dog. When husband is home he just figdets about the dogs. The darlings. And so often it is really difficult to avoid openly quarreling—why if one of them accidentally gets under his feet he is almost abusive. And he has a way of just at unabling on the poor little things all the time, just as if he did not know that they were in the house. To beg him t obe careful—only precipitates some outbreak—for he calls them insects and is generally insulting. So it is always a relief when he is away. Just one of their misulting. So it is always a relief when he is away. Just one of their man who is able to appreciate the calls them insects and is generally insulting. So it is always a relief when he is away. International Money Order Business Will Experience Boom Soon

International money order business at the Atlanta postoffice, which nas fallen off considerably since the war, due to the more favorable rates of exchange prevailing at banks, is expected to substantially increase after August 15, when the postal rate of exchange will become virtually the same that is now prevalent at local banks, under a new schedule governing the issuance of international money orders at American postoffices.

The new schedule is contained in a postal bulletin received Friday at the office of Assistant Postmaster J. C. Staton from Postmaster J. C. Staton from Postmaster J. C. Staton from Postmaster General Burleson. The bulletin fully recognizes the marked depreciation of money in Great Britain, France, Italy and European countries as compared with the American dollar.

Purchasers of international money orders have heretofore been required to pay prewar equivalents for the franc, pound sterling and other foreign currency. The new scale places the price of an English pound sterling at $4, instead of $4.87. The French, Italian and Belgian franc is worth exactly half its value before the great war, as $1 is now the equivalent of 10 francs and 30 centimes. The scale shows a lesser shrinkage in the Norwegian, Danish and Swedish kroner.

Asks $20,000 Damages For Death of Husband Killed by Conductor

Suit for $20,000 damages, following the shooting of her husband by a street car conductor last Sunday night, was filed Friday by Daisy Golden, a negress, against the Georgia Railway and Power company. The suit sets out that the power company is responsible for criminal acts of its employees and that the petitioner's husband, Henry Golden, was killed without provocation by W. R. Taylor, the conductor on the Inman Park line. The woman charges the company with negligence in employing the conductor.

Taylor is now under $2,000 bond waiting trial in the police court August 5, when a number of Inman Park residents have been summoned to appear as witnesses. Attorney Walter LeCraw represents the petitioner.

The name of Roy R. Smith, an Atlanta boy, appeared at the top of the weekly bulletin of class standing at the Navy Yeomen's school at Hampton Roads, Va., according to a message received Friday at the cof the State.

Early passage of the senate bill to amend the Georgia banking law is expected in the house, following recommendation by the banking committee yesterday that it pass without any further change. It is reported that the bill will come before the house Tuesday.

This legislation, which has the approval of the state superintendent of banks, of every bank in the state almost without exception, as well as that of many prominent state officials, makes various minor changes in the existing law, all looking to the smoother working of the law in the superintendent's hands.

The most important clause is that dealing with the charging of exchange on out-of-town checks by banks operating under state charters. This bill makes it specifically legal for them to make this charge and sets the rate, at one-eighth of one per cent with a minimum charge of ten cents on each check. It also makes it a misdemeanor for anyone to hoard checks against any bank until the total shall exceed the cash reserve the bank is required under the law to carry.

This feature of the bill is almed directly at the ruling of the Federal Reserve bank which tries to make par clearance of checks universal. Bankers generally are vigorously opposing this ruling and it is believed that the new Georgia law will effectually protect state banks in Georgia from the par clearance plan, inasmuch as the attorney general has held that where a corporation does business under a state charter, a federal authority cannot conflict with the laws of the said state, which specifically deal with the corporate dealings of said organization.

New York, July 30.—Further col-lapse of international exchange served an decided check to buillsh enthusiasm in the stock market to-dfay, although the tendency among representative issues, including ralls, was upward until the final hour, a heavy tone ruling at the end.

rails was upward until the hashour, a heavy tone ruling at the end.

There was constant pressure upon such industries as rubbers, leathers and other low-priced specialties, shorts resuming their attacks against those issues on more adverse trade reports. Net losses in these and kindred issues ranged from 1 to almost 3 points, oils and steels also giving way.

The market was sustained during the greater part of the day by the comparative case of call money, much of which was loaned and renewed into next week at 8 per cent, increasing belief in an early advance of railroad rates was another sentimental factor.

Exchange on London was again most affected by the general declines in foreign remittances, sterling demand failing to within a fraction of $3.70 to the pound, with concurrent weakness of rates to other allied centers. A large part of the British bills represented, according to report, exports of foodstaffs and cotton.

Cotton Market Gossip

New York, July 30.—(Weekly Cotton)—While there has been little evidence of strength in the cotton market this week, the decline in prices has not been so pronounced as it was a week ago, in fact the net loss is rather small outside of the October position which developed considerable weakness in contrast to its previous position of strength. This reversal of form was brought about largely by the liquidation of contracts that had been acquired by traders in anticipation of big premiums in October similar to those which prevailed in March, May and July.

Prospects for an improvement in transportation, the greatly improved crop outlook and increased offerings of new crop cotten from the southwast with a noteble reduction. New York, July 30 .- (Weekly Cot- | by interests who were willing to

Prospects for an improvement in transportation, the greatly improved crop outlook and increased offerings of new crop cotten from the southwest, with a notable reduction in demand from the mills discouraged further holding of October contracts and quite general liquidation occurred. The action of the rest of the market rather indicated that bearish crop news, which still continued as a feature of the week, had been fairly well discounted. There was a good deal of selling at times but the offerings were taken

Financial Conditions Causes Wheat to Drop

Market Closes Unsteady at Net Decline of 101-4 200; to 103-4 - Crop Report Helps to Hold Corn to Better Levels.

Chicago, July 30 .- Misgivings in egard to financial conditions did ood deal to curtail buying powe today in the wheat market and led to a steep fall in prices. At one time December, the principal option. was down 12% cents. The close was unsettled, 10% to 10% cents net ower, with December $2.22% to $2.23 and March $2.2514.

The strained financial situation dominated all of the grain markets, but especially wheat. In this connection, setbacks in foreign exchange rates had a particular dis-turbing influence by adding to the uncertainties or the export trade, and tending to shut off one of the chief outlets for producers just when an enlarged supply of railroad likely to double the volume of crop movement. Reports that until next Wednes day at least the British royal commission would be out of the market as a purchaser were also made much of by the bears. The same banker expressed the opinion that farmers should hold their new grain until the old crops crowding the elevators in various sections could be disposed of. Unfavorable crop reports from Ill-inois kept the corn market from any such abnormal drop in price as there was in wheat. Nevertheless, heavy liquidations by holders took place. Provisions were depressed in commitments of the present administration's foreign policy in order to establish harmony between the president and Governor Cox.

HARDING THRUSTS QUERIES ON LEAGUE

"None of these questions have been answered either by Governor Cox or by any authorized spokesman for him. But there is accumulating evidence as to the democratic attitude. Senator Walsh, of Massachussetts, a democrat, was in Dayton yesterday and after a long talk with Governor Cox, declared he was going to support the governor. According to the newspaper reports the senator was asked about Governor Cox's decision regarding article ten, and Senator Walsh said that it was possible for him to agreefylth a candidate on nine out of ten issues and still support that candidate, even if they differed on the tenth proposition.

Alleges Cox-Wilson Pact. Alleges Cox-Wilson Pact.

Alleges Cox-Wilson Pact.

"Thus it becomes apparent that Senater Walsh was not able to agree with Governor Cox's view on article ten. The only possible inference is that Governor Cox is maintaining the same attitude toward article tep that President Wilson has long maintained. Apparently, the governor has given assurance to the president that if elected he will stand by the president's program. Otherwise the governor would have been able to give Senator Walsh assurances that would have saved the latter from the uncomfortable necessity of admitting that they did not agree about article ten.

"Thus is further aridones that "There is further aridones that they are in the present that they did not agree about article ten."

comfostable necessity of admitting that they did not agree about article ten.

"There is further evidence that the democratic nominee is obligated to stand by the foreign policy of the present administration. Mr. White, new chairman of the democratic national committee, was interviewed in Washington yesterday and said Progressivism is to be the paramount issue of the campaign, and he indicated very plainly that the democratic intend to attempt forcing other issues to the front to keep the public mind away from the fact that their candidate has given his pledge to support the Wilson policy toward the treaty and the league.

"It is perfectly understandable that the democratic manager should desire to have the whole sorry business of democratic foreign policies forget. The more the democrate strengt to get away from this question, the more insistent the cuntry will be to know what they incend to do if they are entrusted with the administration. It is as plain as daylight that accord could not have been established by the president and the democratic nominee except on condition that the latter assume all the liabilities of the president's program.

"No matter how it may be cam-all the liabilities of the president's program.

"No matter how it may be camouffaged or glossed over, it is more obvious every day that if the democrats should win their effort would be to compel ratification of the league covenant without essential modifications. Senator Walsh's statement makes this perfectly plain. He admitted himself in disagreement with Governor Cox immediately after a long talk with the governor. Senator Watsh has heretofore been just as ardently opposed to article ten as any of us. But for the sake of democratic harmony he is now apparently willing to forget about it and to try to induce the country to ferget about it by pushing other issues to the front.

it and to try to induce the country to ferget about it by pushing other issues to the front.

Campaign Contributions.

"In connection with Chairman White's statement that 'progressivism is to be the paramount issue of the campaign." I note that Mr. White announced that the democratic committee will not restrict itself to $1,000 contributions as announced by the republicans, and that he said that any such restriction was buncombe.

"I have misgivings as to whether our country will agree with Mr. White. At any rate, it will be regarded as a queer sort of progressivism, this of poking fun at a sincere effort to limit the amount of campaign contributions.

"The republican management has undertaken in all good faith to raise a truly popular campaign fund. It is believed that this will be accomplished and if so it will be a most notable advance in political management. It is true that with the number of voters substantially doubled by reason of woman suffrage, and with the great increase in expense of campaigning, a good deal of money will be required to carry an effective appeal to the people. Nevertheless, the republicans have undertaken to raise the money in small amounts by popular subscription. They hope to succeed.

"The democrats flout any such argention and at the very outset of the campaign proclaim that they have no intention of attempting such a reform. They will discover before election day that the country is not prepared to approve their program of unlimited campaign funds. Undoubtedly it is quite true that certain powerful international interests which are deeply concerned in carrying out the present administration's foreign policy are prepared to contribute most liberally to the democratic funds. Undoubtedly, it is true, too, that without such contribute most liberally under contribute most liberally to the democratic funds. Undoubtedly, it is

The telegram came as a response to one sent by Mr. Upshaw, who acted upon the request of a representative of more than 100 cotton mills in this state.

The message from Washington reads as follows:

The message from washington reads as follows:

"Your wire 26th received. Conferences are now being held at which the entire coal situation is being considered. It seems certain that there is no legal or economic justification for the high prices now being paid for coal. The production this year is much greater than last, and it is hoped that within a few days some general sain can be devised to relieve the situation.

Widespread Interest Shown in Proposed Charter for Atlanta

As evidence of the widespread interest in the proposed new charter movement for Atlanta, the local chamber of commerce has received more than twenty letters within the past two weeks from points from West Virginia to California, requesting copies of the proposed charter, according to C. E. Robinson, secretary. In every case, Mr. Robinson stated, the letters expressed great admiration for the document and stated that it was the best paper of its kind ever prepared in this country.

REAL ESTATE—For Sale | REAL ESTATE—For Sale BEAUTIFUL BUNGALOW FOR THE DISCRIMINATING BUYER

FOR THE DISCRIMINATING BUYER

WE HAVE a beauty that will appeal to you. It has an east font, tile porch, with a cement side drive. The arrangement of the rooms are all that can be desired. Coming into the reception room you are agreeably pleased with the arrangement, which is so different from the cut-and-dried plan of those places that are built to sell. The walls are done in such a pleasing tone, with elaborate silver fixtures that have been especially selected. The floors are of the best hardwood, beautifully polished. The bath room is of tile and of easy approach to two bedrooms and sleeping porch. The sun parior is large, well placed, and all that can be desired. The dining room is a delight, hardwood floors and paneled walls. It is occupied by the owner, who can give quick possession, and whose only reason for selling is the good wife is not strong and he wishes her to be with his mother. Prices and terms should appeal to you. $13,000. See Ms. Stafford or Mr. Warren.

TO WAIT FOR MEN

OF GEORGIA TECH

The calibre of men turned out by the Georgia school of technology and the standard that the graduates have set was shown by the trip to Atlanta of Gaston C. Raoul, president of the Tennessee Furniture corporation, one of the largest business institutions of its kind in Tennessee, in search of four graduates from the Atlanta college.

Some time ago, Mr. Raoul signed up Talley Johnson, captain of the Yellow Jacket football team of a former season, and he was so well satisfied with his services that he now prefers to wait a whole year to secure Tech men rather than rely on men from any other technical college.

Mr. Raoul called on President matheaon for technical experts, but the Tech president reported that all of the last year's class had already signed up for next year. The Tennessee magnate decided that he would leave the positions vacant until next year, when he will make a special offer to the class of 1921.

Mrs. Haig Dead.

Paris, July 30.—Mrs. George Ogil-vy Haig, of London, who before her marriage was Miss Charlotte Astor, died in the American hospital at Neuilly, at 4:30 o'clock this aft-ernoon. Mrs. Marshall Orme Wil-son, of New Tork city, her aister, was at the bedside.

"I would rather stay in jail the rest of my life than to go back to my mother," was the declaration made Friday night by Miss Lucy Shepard, aged 19, who was arrested at the request of her mother, Mrs. Hannah Shepard, of 186 South Bouleyard, who claimed her daughter was uncontrollable.

Mrs. Shepard told Officers Evans and Johnson that her daughter had left home and would not return, and asked that she be taken into custody and entreated to return home. The officers went to 134 Powell street, where the girl has made her home since she left that of her mother, and she was given the option of either returning to her mother or going to jail. She promptly decided on the latter fate. She was placed behind bars, in the women's ward, and a blanket charge of disorderly conduct was docketed against her.
